CADUCEUS

This book is dedicated to the Class of 1998. Hopefully it will bring back many pleasant memories now and in the future when you pick it up and flip through the pages.

Although the yearbook staff worked diligently to put the final touches through the efforts of every class member who created and contributed their own page of memories. We hope you will be as proud of the final product as we are.

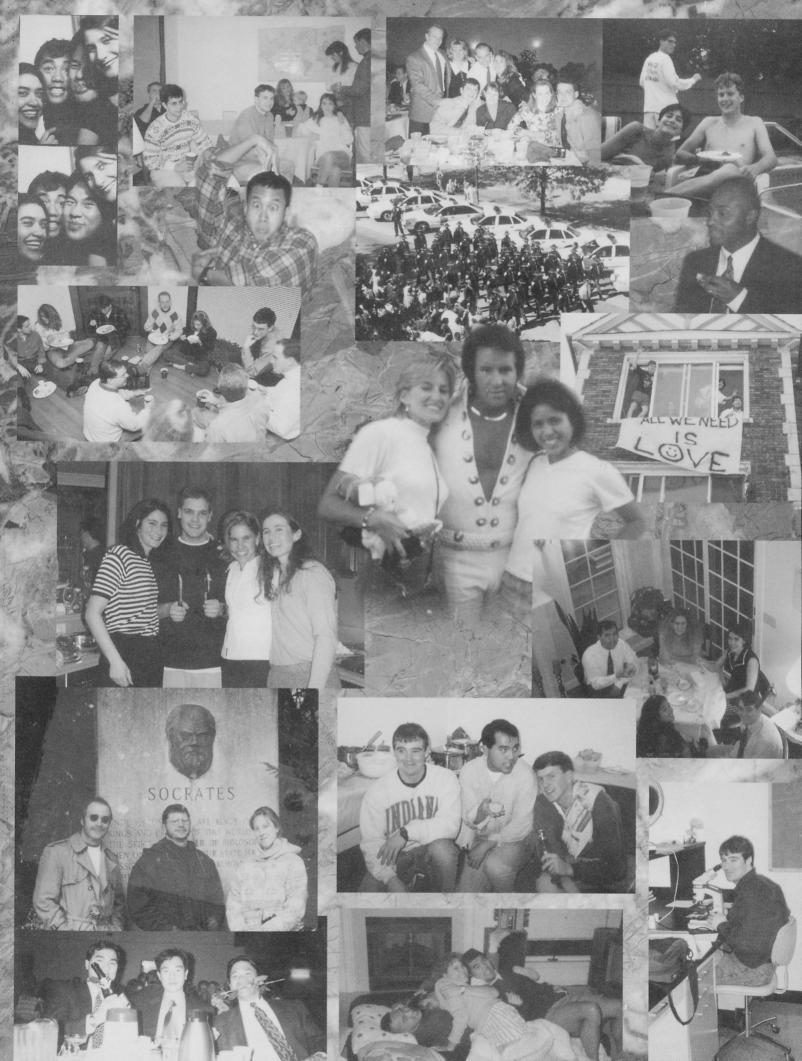

Thanks for the memories

MAICHDAY 1998

THE CLASS OF 1998

David Andres, M.D.

Indianapolis, Indiana B.S., University of Texas - San Antonio Anesthesia - Texas A&M

J. Matthew Andry, M.D.

Corydon, Indiana B.A., Wabash College Family Medicine - John Peter Smith Hospital, Fort Worth, TX

Favorite Memories: Freshman Review. Golf Memories: Gill and Steiner on the same course (whew!), Fulkerson's 4-foot "gimmee's," Mark Page's "Rules of Cheating," IM football with Guy, Crotzer, Big Love, Treash and the boys. Late night studying with Stevens and Brian "no-more-coffee-for-you" Snell. Ultimate Frisbee at Lockfield. Our great ICM group (Thanks Dr. Batteiger!). duckpin bowling. B/W lecture cappacino dashes with Gaudreau. Evening of the Arts. Any story involving Randy Strate (hope we picked a good program for you, Randy!). And of course, the birth of my wonderful son.

Special Thanks: To my beautiful wife, Janna, for getting us through school, and for all the great years yet to come. To Wabash, for helping me become the man I am today (GO 'BASH). To Papa John's, for all the calories. To all my wonderful friends (you know who you are!). Finally, to my best friend now and for ever, Jesus. Thank you.

Melinda Aquino, M.D.

South Bend, Indiana B.S., Georgetown University Internal Medicine - Boston University

Chad Augsten, M.D.

South Bend, Indiana B.S., Indiana University Anesthesia - Indiana University

Joanne Rachel Bacon, M.D.

Evansville, Indiana B.S., University of Richmond Pediatrics - Psychiatry - Indiana University

To Mom and Dad: Thank you for helping me become the woman I am today. You supplied me with not only the skills, determination, and courage to reach this goal, but also the love, reasurrance, and support whenever I doubted my ability to reach it,

To Andy, Judy, Nick, Chris, Ian, Jarad, Tegan, Hannah, and Darby: Thank you for being the most loving, understanding, and fun family I could ever ask for! I love you all!

To Corinda: Thank you for always being my confidante and advisor. From our Salem connection to our 7th grade transfer to our love of kids, we were meant to be best friends. "Here's to you and here's to me..."

To Eric: Thank you for going through med school with me. You are the most loving, considerate, and wonderful husband I could ever dream of. You are my inspiration and soul mate.

Thomas P. Bailey, M.D.

Richmond , Indiana B.S., Indiana University Family Medicine - Ball Memorial

Joey M. Banks, M.D.

Tulsa, Oklahoma B.A., Baylor University Family Medicine - Alaska Family Practice, Anchorage, AK

N'Sira

You are a really, really good guy. Thanks for all the hugs and for helping me keep my priorities straight.

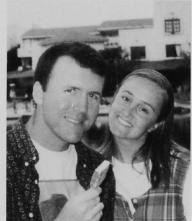

Peace and Love, Joey

To my companions from Bloomington so you can keep on laughing:.

If you ever find yourself "naked" with a painful "acetabulum" take about "0.034 micrograms of tetracycline" or lots of "NSAIDs", especially if your 'phallic length" (whatever that is?) is only 2.5 cm.

Let's do the hustle, Joey

Luis A. Barajas, M.D.

Munster, Indiana B.S., Purdue University Family Medicine - Methodist Hospital, Gary, IN

"God created me to do Him some definite service. He committed some work to me which He has not committed to another. I have my mission. I am a link in a chain. He has not created me for naught...our life's meaning is there: that God loved us into life & gave each a specific mission." (Cardinal Neuman)

To Elizabeth, my solace these past years: Thank you for your support. I'm closer to you now than when we first married. I love you & look forward to our life together.

To Lena & Danny, my pride & joy: You make me look forward to coming home, & you're why I work so hard. I look forward to seeing you & your new siblings grow.

To my parents: Without your love I would never be, or know God's love for me. I certainly would not be a doctor. Words cannot express my gratitude!

Danielle Bentz Bechert, M.D.

Bluffton, Indiana B.S., Indiana University Radiology - University of Michigan

Thanks to my teachers and mentors: Thank you for the gift of your time, talent, and dedication to our education.

Thanks to my mom and dad: Thank you for the love, support, and guidance that have made me who I am today.

Thanks to my brother: Jack, I am so lucky to have a big brother that has always been one of my best friends.

Thanks to all of my family and friends: I appreciate your love and friendship.

Most of all, thanks to my husband: Chad, you are not only my husband, but also my best friend and biggest fan. I am grateful for all we have shared in the past. I look forward to the joys, challenges, and surprises life has in store for us. I love you

Gregory Bell, M.D.

Fort Wayne, Indiana B.A., Washington University Internal Medicine - Jackson Memorial Hospital, Miami, FL

Kara Jean Benson, M.D.

Indianapolis, Indiana B.A., Cornell University Anesthesia - Indiana University

Brian C. Bigelow, M.D.

Indianapolis, Indiana
B.S., University of Dayton
Internal Medicine - Indiana University

One of my more jovial surgery residents once summed up medical school in three words "torture, pain and agony." While this is a fairly accurate statement, I have many fond memories from my four years at IUSOM as well...

Vacationing with the Tammelas
Touring the Highlands with DB
Countless hours of racing with Fechter
Marrying off all of my roommates except Newt
Marc Rosenthal as "Kosher Thunder"
Laser Metallica with Jedlin
A little studying and a lot of hockey
Big-Lov beer
Lo Lo
The Dynamic Duo Dodecathelon (which is still in progress)

Valentine's Day at Bennihana And, most importantly, meeting my fiancee, Kathleen, during my OB/ GYN rotation (no, she was not a patient)

Jennifer Wakeland Bigelow, M.D.

Indianapolis, Indiana B.A., Wittenberg University Family Medicine - St. Francis

I would like to thank my mother for supporting me, financially and emotionally. Thanks to my friends and family, especially Amy and David, for not letting me take medical school too seriously and keeping my priorities straight. Love and kisses to my new husband Lee for loving me, encouraging my career goals, and understanding and forgiving my shortcomings. Denise, thanks for the numerous shared meals and late night conversations; you are a great friend. ICM buddies – Bridget, Chris, Erin, Carl, Don, Jason, Sassan – thank you for traveling this long road with me and making me laugh.

I am reminded of a verse that speaks very personally to me. "From everyone who has been given much, much will be demanded." (Luke 12:48). We are all members of a select group of very blessed individuals. We have undertaken a demanding task - to care for the physical, mental and spiritual needs of our communities. May we fulfill this commission with the utmost humility and integrity.

Valerie S. Bodeau, M.D.

Indianapolis, Indiana B.S., Indiana University Anesthesia - University of Alabama

Just think you are here not by chance
but by God's choosing.
His hand formed you and made you the person you are.
He compares you to no one else.
You are one of a kind.
You lack nothing
that His grace cannot give you.
He has allowed you to be here,
at this place,
at this time,
to fulfill His special purpose
for this generation

Roy Lessin

David A. R. Bowman, M.D.

Indianapolis, Indiana B.S.Chem.E., Howard University Pediatrics - Children's National Medical Center, Washington, D.C.

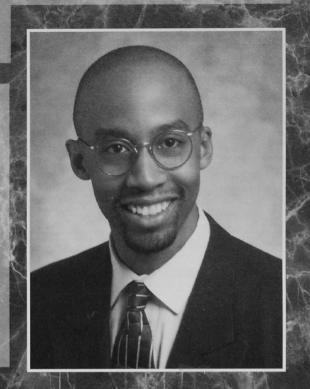

First of all, I would like to give all glory, praise, and honor to my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, who gave me the opportunity and ability to get into and successfully complete medical school! I cannot begin to count the blessings!

To my parents, I thank you for all your support over the years, from helping me with my multiplication tables in elementary school to encouraging me to always do my best in high school to financial help in college and med school, and everything in between! I brag about you all the time!

To the rest of my family, thank you for being there for me when I needed you and for your emotional, moral, and even financial support!

To Johani Miller and Carl Horton, my study partners, you've pulled me through many hard times in medical school, and we've all struggled together through blood, sweat, and tears! I don't know if I could have made it without you!

There's no way I can even begin to put into words how grateful I am to so many people who have helped me get to this point in my life, and there is no way I will be able to include them all in this short amount of space. If you've ever helped me, prayed for me, or blessed me in any way, just know that I appreciate you too!

Sara Ann Ratliff Brown, M.D.

Monroeville, Indiana B.A., DePauw University Emergency Medicine - MSU, Kalamazoo, MI

LORD

Make me an instrument of thy peace;
Where there is hatred, let me sow love:
Where there is injury, pardon.
Where there is doubt, faith;
Where there is despair, hope;
Where there is darkness, light:
And where there is sadness, joy.
O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled, as to console; to be understood as to understand; to be loved as to love; for it is in giving that we are pardoned, and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.

--St. Francis

Nicole Suzanne Brunette, M.D.

Granger, Indiana B.S., Saint Mary's College Emergency Medicine - Indiana University

- * To Mom and Dad: For all of the love and support you've given me over the last four years and my whole life.
- * To Noel: For being a wonderful sister and giving me Adam and Joshua who are constant reminders of what is pure and good in this world.
- * To Good Friends: For making the "Med School Years" fun and a much kinder experience.
- * To Todd: For countless hours shared and memories made.

Love and Gratitude, Nicole

David E. Bryan, M.D.

Evansville, Indiana B.S., Indiana University Urology - Indiana University

Jennifer Terry Bunch, M.D.

Flora, Indiana B.A., Manchester College Family Medicine - Ball Memorial

To my family and friends: You have uplifted me with your abounding love, strengthened me with your undying support, and filled my soul with your constant prayers. Sharing strong and lasting relationships with you has been the most wonderful gift from God.

To my classmates: You have provided many hours of study companionship and camaraderie on rounds! My hope for us is that our quest for academic excellence would be motivated by our desire to provide our patients with superior care. I also hope that we would be dedicated to serving our patients with kindness and compassion, and that we would learn to see the face of God in each person we encounter, treating them with an attitude of tolerance and non-judgment. I pray for each one of you that you may use the talents you have been given to touch the lives of others with the healing power of God.

Andrew P. Cagle, M.D.

Shelbyville, Indiana B.A., Indiana University Pediatrics - Indiana University

Love and thanks to my family.

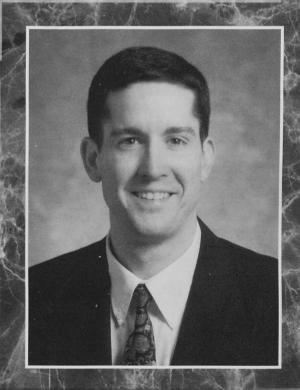

To Granny and MaMaw for their prayers.

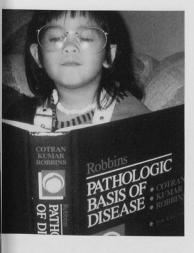

To Nana, Popidoo, and my brothers and sisters for their support not only for me but for being there for Noreen and Jordan (especially Holly).

To Mom, Dad, and Eileen for without their inspiration, encouragement, and support I would not be writing this today.

To Noreen for having faith in me and allowing me to pursue my dream.

To Jordan for being there. No matter how bad things were, I could always count on feeling great inside when you hugged and kissed me. You are my babe.

Seth D. Cahn, M.D.

Indianapolis, Indiana B.A., Brandeis University Neurology - Georgetown University

To: Mom, Dad, Andrew, Jordan & Liz; Nich & Lynne; Greg & Laura; Moira, Matt, Eliot & Josie; Drs.Pascuzzi, Biller, Roos & Joanne; Drs. Wishner, Mitchell & Galvin; Hautians & Haute survivors; & many more: many big thanks, & take care... —sdc

"Why do you pray?" he asked me.

Why did I pray? A strange question. Why did I live? Why did I

"I don't know why," I said, even more disturbed and ill at ease. "I don't know why.'

He explained to me with great insistence that every question possessed a power that did not lie in the answer.

"Man raises himself toward God by the questions he asks him," he was fond of repeating. "That is the true dialogue. Man questions and God answers. But we don't understand his answers...'

"And why do you pray?" I asked him.
"I pray to the God within me that He will give me the strength to ask him the right questions."

"Lord, you know what is best. May your will decide what shall be done. Give me what you will, how much and when you will."

St. Thomas a Kempis

God gave me my parents without whose dreams for me and without their pride in me and times anguish, I would not be what I am today. The Lord has given me everything in immeasurable quantities through them. I will never forget that.

To my younger brother, Umang, who has provided me with a source of entertainment and unconditional support. He has the gift of turning frowns into smiles, and smiles into laughter - a constant source of inspiration.

To my lovely wife, Charu: Through her, my soul is forever filled with love and warmth. Her support and caring is the source of my happiness. I cherish the thought of spending the rest of our lives together.

The rewards of study lie therein.

Confucius

Realization lies in the practice.

The Buddha

I have never heard of anyone who has earned rewards without studying or who attained realization without practice.

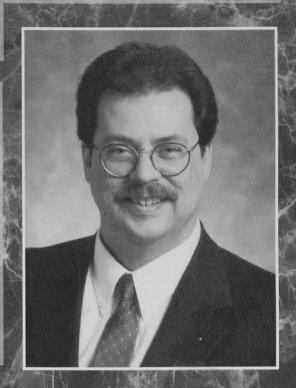

Dogen Zenji

Hundreds of flowers in the spring;
The moon in the autumn;
A cool breeze in the summer,
and snow in the winter.
If there is no vain cloud in your mind for you it is a good season.

Mumon

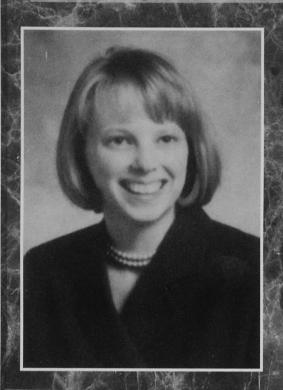

Thus shall you think of this fleeting world: A star at dawn, a bubble in a stream; A flash of lightening in a summer cloud, A flickering lamp, a phantom and a dream.

The past four years have been quite a ride and I am ever grateful for those that were able to share it with me.

Karin, thanks for standing by my side and always offering me the support I need.

Mom and Dad, thanks for teaching me the qualities needed to succeed at life.

Uncle Dick, thanks for getting me back on the road to medicine.

Doug and the rest of the Fort Wayne Crew, thanks for helping out during the tough times and playing hard during the fun times.

Rim, thanks for being a great friend.

Most importantly, I thank Jesus and ask him that during the rest of my life that I may also, "grow in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men." Lk 2:52

Wow, twenty-four years of education seem to have gone by so fast! My thanks first goes to the Lord, whose support made the impossible come to pass. Next, to my wife, Kathy, who endured nobly medical school, illness, and three preschool hurricanes A.K.A. those Crook boys. She is first among ladies. Then to my parents and in-laws, whose care and many deeds of support are an inspiration to me as a father. Finally to the many who gave of themselves to meet our needs. I thank God for you and am changed forever by what I have received.

David Robert Crotzer, M.D.

Greenwood, Indiana B.S., University of Tulsa Obstetrics & Gynecology - Ohio State

As I look back over my life's journey and prepare to embark on a new one, I wish to thank those who have been so instrumental in my life:

To my Mom and Dad, who have filled my life with unconditional love; To Vicki, Bryan and Michael, who have filled my life with laughter and happiness;

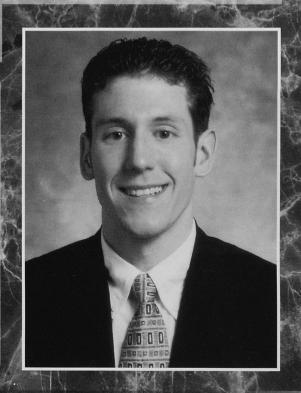

To my friends, who have filled my life with cherished memories and unwavering support;

And to my colleagues, who have been a testament to the nobility of the art of medicine.

You have challenged me to strive for excellence, and you have given me the courage to continue when I fall short. Thanks for everything!

"Excellence is never cheap. It is costly. Constant care, serious preparation, and continual application are required. Excellence involves desire plus discipline plus determination."

"The Ponsible"

What a strange, yet exciting feeling to realize that in a few short months each of us will be ultimately responsible for the health of other human beings. Sure, it's why we're all here to begin with.. but now that time is really here. We're, as my youngest son puts it, "The Ponsible"... the one in charge! Certainly we have all made many sacrifices to get to this place in our lives, my family can certainly attest to that. After years of PB&J for dinner, it's time to put on that looong white coat!

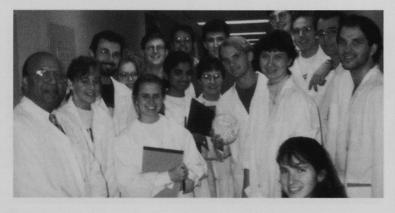

Well, I hope I'm prepared to be "The Ponsible"... to actually have women rely on me to maintain their health and deliver their children. All I ask is that one day a patient of mine might see me in the grocery store.. smile, and tell her friend, "That's my doctor.. the one I've been telling you about."

To my beloved wife: Without you I am nothing, but with you by my side I have everything. You have been my best friend, my lover, and my encourager. Thank you for your devotion. I love you with all of my heart.

To my precious son: Your smile and hugs and laughter bring more joy to my soul than anything on this earth. I love you with all of my heart.

To my loving family: You all have been with me from the beginning. Your prayers and words of encouragement have been my strength and support. I love all of you with all of my heart.

To my Mom and Dad: Thank you so much for supporting me throughout my years of education. You have both been a great example to me as Christian parents and have taught me godly principles that I will hold on to for the rest of my life. I know that this year and the ones to follow will contain many uncertainties but remember "Cast your cares on the Lord and he will sustain you; he will never let the righteous fall."- Psalm 55:22

To my Brother: You have been a great support to me throughout medical school. I have always looked up to you and cherished your advice. I look forward to the continued close friendship that we will share in the future.

Because He lives I can face tomorrow.
Because He lives all fear is gone.
Because I know who holds the future, and life is worth the living
Because He lives!

Jef - Love and laughter have made up our lives over the past decade. We have grown together and formed the framework from which we will continue to build for the rest of our lives. Thank you for your love and support.

Mom and Dad - The compassion, values, and dedication instilled by you throughout my life have enabled me to face the challenges with strength and courage. Knowing that you have been standing by my side has made the difference between failure and success.

Kim, Brandon, and McKenna - As you and your children travel down a new path, I offer my love and support. Sisters face many of life's challenges together, and your loving support has encouraged me to strive for excellence.

There are so many people without whom I never could have made it.

To my mother and father for all the sacrifices they've had to make in order to support my educational pursuits.

To Olivia and Alex, for their spiritual support and friendship during some of the most stressful times of my life.

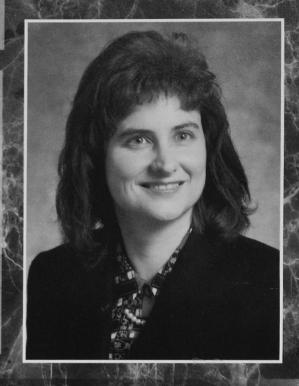

To Margaret, my friend and confidant.

To Dr. Nick, for being the best role model I could ever ask for.

To Robby, for the many times he's had to sacrifice time with Mom so that I could study.

And, of course, to my husband, whom I love dearly and who was always there for me, even when we had to be miles apart.

May the Lord guide my footsteps as I dedicate my life to the service of mankind..

If you stood by my side while I laughed and I cried...

If my happiness increases your own...

If you've been a friend though thick and through thin...

I hope you will reap what you've sown.

My respect and my love, Goodwill from Above

Are the rewards you surely have won;

My thanks you're receiving as now I am leaving...

And praise God! At last! Med School is DONE!!!

To my husband, my parents, my family and friends: More than words can express, I love you and thank you!

The Best and Worst of it All...

First Year: The time I got Julie Kist to dance on the stage at Rock Lobster. The second Biochem test. "Hey, let's go to Old Pointe... We'll just leave our books here at the library. We'll be back."

Second Year: "Hey let's go a hundred." My Nordic Track. Spring Break- "I hate stupid people." Old Path tests. "Soup of the Day."

Third Year: Bananna Republic and Nine West. The Surgery test. First Fridays. "Maybe I should have taken a vacation month."

Fourth Year: This is LIVING! "Jose, don't fail me now." The Senior Women take Miami Beach by storm!!!! More to come......

There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under heaven:

- a time to be born and a time to die,
- a time to plant and a time to uproot,
- a time to kill and a time to heal,
- a time to tear down and time to build,
- a time to weep and a time to laugh,
- a time to mourn and a time to dance,
- a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them,
- a time to embrace and a time to refrain,
- a time to search and a time to give up,
- a time to keep and a time to throw away,
- a time to tear and time to mend,
- a time to be silent and a time to speak,
- a time to love and a time to hate,
- a time for war and a time for peace.

Many Thanks...

Dayme - for your continued love, encouragement, and enthusiasm despite our crazy life.

Mom & Dad - for your ongoing love, support, prayers, and guidance, without which I would not be where I am today.

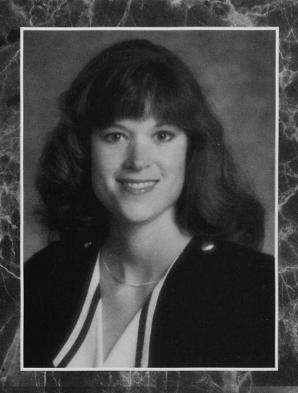

Tom, Mary, & Toots - for your love, assurance, and confidence in my accomplishments.

John & James - for being two great brothers whom I could always count on for encouragement and an unforgettable and entertaining time.

Tracy, Teri, & Sheryl - for your inventive jingles and cheers, a code that may never be cracked, "W" pencils, a quick response to Raynaud Emergency 911, ode to a highlighter, and lasting friendships that made it all worthwhile.

Kim & Caleb - for the many laughs and your ability to help me keep everything in perspective and take a walk on the lighter side of life.

Phanty - for your wake-up purrs, welcome home greetings, and boxing work-outs.

"Start saving money for third year when everyone will get married."
This advice I got from an upper level as my belongings I carried Through the parking lot of Lockefield Gardens, my new home to be
For the next year or two ( it turned out to be three.)
I was in medical school now, with no time for men.
I had more important things to worry about, like Neuro or Biochem.
But soon I found out that there was time for fun
Like playing hockey with the guys beneath the setting sun,
Or relaxing at OPT's after a series of exams,
Or playing with Coco and Hazel, my nutty little hams!
Suddenly it was third year, and my friend's prediction came true –
Classmates were walking down the aisle, two by two.
I myself was affected and became a member of that list
So from now on I am Julie Fecht, no longer Julie Kist!

Mom and Dad: Although words can't begin to express my gratitude, I want to thank you for all of your love, encouragement, guidance and support. You have always been there for me. Thank you for helping me make it to where I am today. I love you.

Hilary: Your adventures and creativity inspire me, thank you.

Tom: I am incredibly lucky to have you in my life. Thank you for always listening and for making me laugh each day. I love you.

To my friends and the class of 1998: We did it! Good luck as you continue to pursue your dreams.

I would like to thank my parents for their continuous support and encouragement. I love and admire my mother for her gregarious, kind, and unselfish character. My father's unending examples of perseverance and attitude of "service before self" encouraged me to follow him as an Air Force Officer. My sister, Christine, is my best friend and confidant. Through college and medical school she was always my biggest cheerleader. By allowing me to share in the pregnancy and birth of her daughter, Lisa, I came to realize my love and fascination for obstetrics.

Last, but certainly not least, Robert, my husband. Your unconditional love, strength, and support enabled us to endure our four-year, long-distance relationship. You will never know how much the sound of your voice and sense of humor meant to me during phone calls late at night. I am so excited about our future and spending the rest of my life with you.

To the IUSOM Class of 1998: Thanks for all the friendships and good times! Good Luck and God Bless,

Kim

Wherever you go, there you are. I have gone more places during the past 4 years than I ever had before in my life, & only some of them were outside of me. The longest journey has been between my head & my heart. After having been pushed, prodded, encouraged, stepped on, complimented, ignored, scared to death, elated beyond words, horribly sad, excited, exasperated, angry, indignant, satisfied, content, intrigued, enticed & blown away, I would have to say I have grown more than ever before. Learning how to be present, no matter what life dishes up, has been the more difficult than anything med school put before me. Even with all of the changes in my life, I am still surprised to find the essential me is still there, thriving & excited about the next bend in the road. I hope the road is always rising up to meet us & we always have the fortune to face our challenges with a good friend at our side.

Special Thanks: My family, Phang the cat, & Cathi, Chad, Alison, Janna, Chiata, & Chetna.

To Mom and Dad- Thank you for giving me so much. I owe you both more than I could ever repay.

To the rest of my family- You guys are the greatest! Thanks for all the support, laughs, and encouragement.

To the guys from my men's small group from the first two years- As iron sharpens iron, God knew I would need you fellas to encourage, support, and challenge me along the way. I'll never forget you guys and our times together.

To my classmates- Best wishes to all of you. All those who know me (except Dan Fulkerson) have permission to give me a swift kick in the pants if I start acting like a jerk during residency.

And most of all to my heavenly Father- Thank you for seeing me through this far, for blessing me here beyond anything I could ever deserve, and for even giving me the opportunity to do all this in the first place.

This is a paraphrase of Manesh Parikshak in our 2nd set of notes first year: Welcome young doctors of the class of 1998! Well, your time has come and you are doing what you've worked so hard to achieve. Bet you feel like a million bucks, right? Well get ready for the ride of your life. We will be traveling at mach 2 at an altitude that will seem to be way above your heads. Remember to keep your seatbelts fastened. If you feel a sudden drop in cabin pressure its probably from someone opening the door to bail out! The captain has removed the no smoking sign so smoke 'em if you got 'em! This is going to be one of the most challenging but also one of the most rewarding years of your life. Remember that the only thing achieved in life without effort is failure. Have a great career!

August, 1994 seems like a hundred years away. Back then, I didn't know what to expect from med school. At the time, I didn't realize the most important things I would take away from these last four years. Last year I met my boyfriend, Aaron. He's a really incredible guy who's taught me a lot about life and about myself. I never knew how unbelievably goofy I could be. I've also met so many gool people that I really treasure as friends. Madhuri, Kim, Jennifer, Victoria, Chuck, and Kami. I've had tons of great times with you guys - from taking vacations to waiting for hours in the 27 degrees below zero weather in Chicago. And finally, I want to thank my wonderful parents, Ray and Millie, who have always been there for me and whom I love with all my heart.

To my Mom and Dad: I cannot begin to tell you how much your encouragement and support have helped me get this far in life. You sacrificed many things over the years that allowed me to take advantage of opportunities, both in education and in life experiences. I love you both very much for that. And, I'll always treasure the values you've instilled over the years. Thank you both so much for being there and making it easier for me.

To Garth and Tiffany: You have also been so supportive and understanding over the last four years of insanity. I don't know how I would have gotten through them without being able to bend your ears at times. Your insight and advice have meant a lot to me and helped keep me grounded. Now that we're through with school, look out world. Here's to a group of hyperachievers. I love you both.

Lucia and Susan: Thanks for everything. I don't know where to begin to tell you how much you both helped me through some crazy times. And gave me a good swift kick when I needed it.

Alex: Thanks. I don't know what I'd have done without you.

To my Family and Friends: I am truly blessed with a fantastic group of friends. Thank you for your distractions from the insanity of med school.

I feel it redundant to utilize this space to thank my family for helping me achieve this goal. I believe they know how important they have been in my development as a person as well as a physician. I will just simply state once more to Larry, Donna, Kristin, Patti, Sharon, and Moni how much I love you and appreciate your continued presence in my life.

To my daughters Alexandria and Ciara I can only begin to express how profoundly you have changed my life with the addition of yours.. It is because of you I am able to allow feelings of compassion, true caring, and love to be a part of my everyday life. To their mother Amie I thank you for reminding me of this and the need to focus more on today's riches and less on tomorrow's rewards. You and your family have always helped me feel proud of my accomplishments, something that did not come naturally.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my beautiful wife for all her support throughout medical school. She's been so selfless always putting my needs and interests even before hers. She has worked a full time job while at the same time providing me with emotional support. She was there for me when I kicked my microbiology book half way across the hall after failing the first two exams. She told me I could do it and to keep on course, and subsequently I did. She nurtured me back to health after I had surgery for a benign cyst in my jaw. Also she was there during my surgery rotation when I couldn't do anything right. She always roots for me during school, during karate tournaments and throughout every phase of my life. She's the most wonderful human being I've ever met and I thank God for everyday that I have with her.

It is not your environment, it is you-----the quality of your minds, the integrity of your souls, and the determination of your wills-----that will decide your future and shape your lives. -- Benjamin Elijah Mays

STILL I RISE

You may write me down in history With your bitter, twisted lies, You may trod me in the very dirt But still, like dust, I'll rise

Did you want to see me broken? Bowed head and lowered eyes? Shoulders falling down like teardrops I rise Weakened by my soulful cries.

You may shoot me with your words, You may cut me with your eyes, You may kill me with your hatefulness, But still, like air, I'll rise. Out of the huts of history's shame

Up from a past that's rooted in pain
I rise

I'm a black ocean, leaping and wide, Welling and swelling I bear in the tide

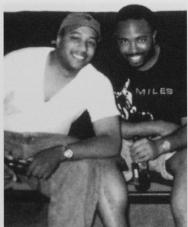

Leaving behind nights of terror and fear

Into a daybreak that wondrously clear

Bringing the gifts that my ancestors gave, I am the dream and the hope of the slave. I rise....I rise....I rise....II rise....II rise....II rise...II rise...II rise...II rise...II rise...II rise.

To Linda, my beautiful & Godly wife: You allowed me to pursue and fulfill a dream. You endured with admirable and unyielding strength the arduous task of caring and providing for our four boys and your parents alone while I was away at school in Indianapolis. Your continual support and ever present love are more precious to me now than ever before. I treasure every moment we have to share together.

To Brad, Wes, Chris & Alex, my four wonderful boys: You boys always bring a smile to my face and rejuvenate the little boy in me. I will cherish the terrific summer we spent together playing baseball, jumping on the tramp, swimming and even vacationing to North Carolina in 1997. I love you boys with all my heart and am truly proud of each one of you.

To Jesus, my Lord & Savior: Thank you for your divine direction, help and providence. I seek your continued guidance in my life as a husband, father and physician.

By the time this is read, medical school will have long been over and residency well under way. The pictures you see here include faces of those people without whose help this could not have been accomplished. To them I would like to say:

To my Mother, whose unyielding love, relentless compassion, and countless prayers that helped me along the way....to my Father, whose dedication, commitment, ingenuity, and courage set an altitudinous example to follow.....to my Sister whose drive, ambition, encouragement and advice kept me striving to always do better.....and to Mary my Wife who made me realize that life is absolutely nothing without pure and genuine love......to you all, no words can accurately describe how much you mean to me.

Thank you for all of your help and love over the last four years of my life.

To my family: Without your encouragement, love, and guidance this accomplishment would have never been possible. Growing up you always told me that I could do whatever I set my mind to doing, and look at who is a doctor now. Thanks for everything you have given to me over all these years.

To all the tools: We have had a lot of great times from the toolshed, to Alpha Sigs, to Jackson Heights, to Cincinnati. You guys have always been there for me through the good and bad times. No one knows what the future holds but "Be Careful".

To my medical school friends: We have been through a lot together over the past four years. From drunk tailgaits, to Spleens over Miami, to Blue Baby, to Champagne Taste, to pulling down Coca-Cola signs, to turning up the hot tub heat, to changing career choices a million times. I hope everyone gets all that they want out of life and may we always enjoy the Planter's Peanuts.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank several people for helping me overcome the obstacles encountered in the last eight years. To Mom and Dad: Thank you for instilling in me a strong work ethic and faith in God. Without those two things, I would not be where I am today. Your advice and encouragement mean a lot to me. To my brother, Shecter: I appreciate our friendship and am so glad we have stayed close despite the miles between us. To my wonderful husband, Eric: Thank you for your patience and love. I am proud of your accomplishments and look forward to spending my life with you. I love you!

There are a lot of exciting moments that I will always remember about these four years of medical school. But the best is knowing that there is nothing I would rather be doing than this - - being a doctor.

I owe many thanks to my family and to my wonderful husband, for it is largely because of them that I am where I am today. Thank you Mom and Dad for always believing in me and encouraging me to do the best that I possibly could. Dad, I'll always remember that "my accomplishments are their own rewards."

And a special thank you to my very best friend, my husband, Jeremy, who I married on December 21, 1996. Meeting you was the best part of these four years. I am so grateful for all the support you give me and for the way you are always so understanding. I can't wait to spend the rest of my life with you, sharing our dreams and watching them come true. You the husband I always dreamed about. Thank you so much for just being you!

You both in your own way gave me the tools and confidence necessary for me to be able to walk away from early decisions and choices I made in my life. Because of this I was able to chase and fulfill my dreams. Thank You.

To Jennifer my lovely wife. You are not only my wife but my best friend and lover and I could not have hoped for a better mother to the two beautiful children you have given us during these past four years. You are the reason we have made it to this day. You've been there from day one with unconditional love and support. I look forward to each moment we spend together laughing and facing the challenges and joys life has to offer us. Most importantly I want to thank you for coming into my life, for I now realize that of everything I may do in my lifetime the most priceless and important is to be a father to our children and be your husband. I Love You.

I first came to Indiana in 1990 to attend the world-renowned school of business and decided to stay through medical school. I purchased my first dog. Byron, in 1994, my second dog, Abraham, in 1995, and got married in 1997; all in Indiana. Byron wears a metal license tag in the shape of a fire hydrant, which seems to me to be a feeble joke. It is hard to believe that any state in the Union would circulate a joke like that and make people pay for it, but Indiana is always thinking of something. On the road between Bloomington and Indianapolis, Indiana has put crosses to mark the point where people have lost their lives in motor accidents. This has happened so much in spots that the highway has begun to take on the appearance of a cemetery, and driving down to Bloomington has become a solemn experience, when one thinks mainly about death. It was driving down this very road that I fell in love with Erika, my wife, and started think about life. It was the nicest feeling. I think medical school has been more or less the same.

In 1977, my family, composed of my parents and ten children, escaped war-torn Vietnam on a little riverboat. Only by God's providence did we not drown as we crossed the South China Sea to reach Thailand. I watch the stars at night, and I wonder if they are the same stars I would see if I had never left Vietnam. How vast and how great is the love of God? What are his purposes; what are his plans? Why does he take a five-year-old boy out of Vietnam, to plant him in the fertile soil of America? I would have grown up selling rice cakes on the streets, or would have learned to drive a team of water buffaloes across a flooded field during the rice-planting season. But instead, I grew up playing little league and flag football. I attended college at Indiana University and medical school at Indiana University School of Medicine; I will be the first person in my family of ten children to become a medical doctor. All glory and thanks belong to you, Lord Jesus.

It's been a privilege getting to know and work with all of you. What a truly great bunch of people! Here's a look back over my last four years (clockwise from top left):

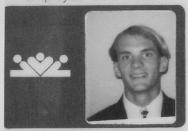

- 1. Graduation from Purdue. Although now graduating from Indiana University School of Medicine, I'll always bleed Black and Gold. Go Boilers!
- 2. Marriage vows took place on July 30, 1994. Walking this road hand-in-hand with the love and support of Jennifer made it much easier. Happy Graduation, Jen!
- 3. I didn't know what to expect at the Muncie Campus, but I couldn't have asked for a better two years; lots of work, but plenty of laughs and great times. Thanks guys
- 4. Our busy third year did give way to some free time, like the Patel's Halloween Party.
- 5. The freedom of fourth year allowed time for a family vacation in Hilton Head,...
- 6. an elective month in New Orleans, two incredible months in Nigeria, and ...
- 7. running the Chicago Marathon.

I leave you with a challenge to be great humble servants. God Bless!

When faced with an opportunity to immortalize myself with words, I am ironically without profound or witty comments. Instead, I find myself pleasantly reflecting on the rich blessings that are present in my life. With graduation nearing, the most obvious of these would be the opportunity to receive an education. This has required significant sacrifice, but has undoubtedly been a valuable experience.

With this respect for education, it is not surprising that my best friends are teachers. Fred and Denise, good friends as well as good teachers are priceless. The two of you possess both qualities.

Eric, you continually amaze me with your seemingly endless supply of love and support. My wish is that you never realize what I already know: You are too good for me! This land is parching, this land is thirsting, no seed is growing in the barren ground.
This land is parching, this land is thirsting, O healing river, send your waters down.
Let the seed of freedom awake and flourish, let the deep roots nourish, let the tall stalks rise.
Let the seed of freedom awake and flourish, proud leaves uncurling against the skies.

— Traditional hymn

There are many who have been instrumental in my life during these years of medical school. Above all however is my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Without you, Lord, I would not be here. Your are faithful, even when I have been faithless. Thank you Lord for my life, my wife, and the honor to serve those You bring my way.

Dearest Laura, My beloved and my friend, meeting you, getting married, and our life together are some of my best memories I have of these years.

Mom and dad, thank you for your constant encouragement to do the best I can. You certainly helped keep me from being discouraged when I felt beat down.

Scott, Shelby, Chris, Luke, and Brian - - what wonderful friends and brothers in Christ. Thanks for all of your encouragement and timely admonitions in so many ways. You guys are awesome!

To Mom and Dad: From my first Fisher Price doctor kit to my first opthalomoscope, you have guided me every step of the way. Thank you for loving me even in the lean years. Your love will be an even greater inspiration to me in the phat ones! Although the journey took longer than I had hoped, I am finally standing on the doorstep of a litelong dream. Here begins, the second journey!

To Ruth, Racheal, Rebekkah, et al: Thanks for not calling at 6:00am and after 12:00am. Sorry about all those names I called you. You know I didn't mean them!

For the record: Somewhere on the page is a picture of my dad when he graduated from medical school. Is there a resemblance? Hopefully I will be as successful.

To my study buddies: Key words for the four years: "Mr. Dentate", "hateful", "Black Tie Cheesecake", "Luke", "CT Peppers", "I just hope I passed"

To my patients and colleagues: Please call me by my first name — Doctor!!!

To my Parents: Your love, support, interest and encouragement have always been unending, and it is largely because of you both that I have achieved this goal. You define what it is to be great parents, but you have also been my friends. Your sharing in my achievement makes it infinitely more valuable to me.

To my Dad: You were always more like my brother or best friend than simply my father. You were my number one fan, and although we both wanted more than anything to share these times together, God saw differently. You have shown me how to live zealously, face challenge with perfect grace, and give more than take. You will always be with me.

To my Family and Friends: I am thankful for all of the wonderful times I have shared with family and friends. Although our work partially defines us, let us always remember to play hard, laugh hard, and sip the occasional martini.

To my mom and dad: Through your love, patience, and understanding, you have shown me how to grow in knowledge, wisdom, and inner beauty. I will be forever grateful for your hard work and support in my life. Thank you for everything. I love you.

To Tze Khiong: You are the sun that brightens my day and the moon that guides me through the darkness. You are my strength, my hope, and above all...my love.

To my sisters, Mary Anne, Marissa, and Mindy: Without the laughter and the smiles that you bring into my life, I would be lost! May we continue to share the happiness in our lives together. I love you, my "tatlo kapatid!"

To my friends and family: Thank you for showering me with your constant love and support. You have touched my life in many special ways and you will always remain close to my heart

Med School Memories

My most vivid Med School Memories were not about the long hours of study or the nights of call, but rather the times that I spent with my family and friends during off time. My family always seemed to have a free meal or a funny story to tell me when I was worn out from studying. My nieces and nephews didn't mind me attending their tea parties or hugging them when I needed a hug. My friends were always there when I needed to gripe, party, or just hang out. Many of my friends were even there to witness my "pie-in-face" thirtieth birthday!! So thank you very much to Mom, Dad, Kelly, NiNi, Dan, Roxanne, Chris, Mo, Steve, Katlin, Adrian, Vincie, Gracie, Alice, Newt, Dave, Andy, Marietta, Taylor, and all the Yuks, to name a few. You're the Best!!

To my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ: You loved me before there was me. Without you I am nothing but a mere pion, but you are the champ, and so that makes me a champion in you. I know, oh Lord, that you shed every ounce of your blood for every ounce of my sin. Thank you King of Kings and Lord of Lords, the same yesterday, today, and forever. Galations 2:20, Isaiah 41:10

To my Mom and Dad: Mom, of all people your encouragement uplifted me. You incessantly reminded me to stop and plant my feet before I throw the ball. Dad, I know that I shed many tears before you, and I am grateful that you were and are a father to me.

To my sisters, Laura and Sara: You're cool great friends. Thanks for the Chicita Banana stickers. Don't give up.

To Mary Ellen: I love you with all of my heart, unconditionally. You are my best friend. I cherish you, precious.

To my brother Jon: Thanks for being a good listener. Southern Indiana indeed is the best place on this planet!

First of all, I must thank my wonderful wife, Stephanie, who has managed to keep me focused while ensuring that we have had a wonderful and fun first two years of marriage. I love you with all my heart.

Thank you to my parents and sister for all your love and support.

Now, I most certainly have to aknowledge all my golfing partners and let it be known that Dave, AJ and Fulkerson still owe me money, I'm sure of it. I want to thank Jason, Greg and Mike for helping us study so hard and eat such good food during the first two years (Goli-goli). Thanks also to Lovell for being a good friend and quiet upstairs neighbor.

I would like to congratulate all of my fellow classmates on this achievement. I wish you all the best in your respective careers. I hope we all find health and happiness. Good luck and thanks!

The Man in the Glass

When you get what you want, in your struggle for self And the world makes you king for a day, Just go to a mirror and look at yourself And see what that man has to say. For it isn't your father, mother, or wife Whose judgement upon you must pass The fellow whose verdict counts most in your life Is the one staring back from the glass. He's the fellow to please, never mind all the rest For he's with you clear to the end And you've passed your most dangerous test If the guy in the glass is your friend. You may fool the whole world down the pathway of years And get pats on the back as you pass But your final reward will be heartache and tears If you've cheated the man in the glass.

To my dear husband. I would like to thank you for your love and support. Thanks for being my best friend. Through all these years you have been there for me whenever I needed you. You believed in me, encouraged me, and taught me how to believe in my self. You have made me proud so many times. This one is for you.

To my lovely daughter, joy of my life, Sara. Your beautiful eyes, your sweet smile, your pure love, your innocence, gave me the energy and encouragement to make this accomplishment. With love, Mommy.

To my dad. Although we have been thousands of miles apart your love and prayer have been always with me. Thanks so much dad for all the sacrifices you made for me. For me you set the example that hard work and honesty pay off.

To the good Lord, thank you for my family, my friends, and my blessings.

To my Mom and Dad: Without your constant support and encouragement, I would not be where I am today. You cannot possibly know how much I love you. Thanks for everything.

To my medical school friends: I couldn't have met a better bunch of people than those I've met here at IU. All of you have enriched my life, and I know you will make excellent clinicians. Keep in touch and best of luck.

Finally, to Drew: You have been the biggest blessing of my life over the past six years. Even though it's been a difficult road, we are finally going to be together. Thank you for letting me take this time to become the person I need to be. I love you to infinity.

The following people are awesome and deserve thanking:

MOM AND DAD For always believing in me and my dreams, from rock star to doctor, and always supporting me. Sorry it's been so rocky, but at least it's been interesting. Who knows what's next?

MOM-For giving me a sense of humor, the ability to forgive, and eternal optimism. I hope you can read this in heaven. I love you!

DAD-For giving me spirituality, strength, and unconditional love. I love you!

MY BROTHER RICHARD: For inspiring me with his courage and ability to not complain.

MY FRIENDS: You know, I figured everybody at Med School would be boring, serious, and look the same. Boy, was I wrong! What a bunch of fun people! The friends I've made have been true, exciting and diverse. I love you all! Thanks for being my friends, and stay in touch.

To my wife Laura: My success these past four years would not have been possible without your understanding, your humor, your love, or your cooking. You made the late nights and early mornings pass by quickly. I am looking forward to this next chapter in our lives at each other's side.

To my family: Thanks for the encouragement and guidance you've given me these past 4 years, but more importantly the years before medical school when I learned compassion and dedication.

To Sam and Norm: From you I learned the importance of relaxation, exercise and the occasional nap.

I would like to thank my mother for all of the support and love throughout all of my trials and tribulations, and also the rare but good times.

I would also like to extend a deep appreciation and love to A.J., Bryan, Steph, and Betsy. Medical school has been so much more bearable with their unconditional friendship and support.

Finally, a word about that warm winter day at Bryan and Steph's after the test (of course we had to skip Gross Anatomy). One must never forget Chuck on the guitar and A.J. on the mike singing about, "I woke up this morning and I had a cigarette."

These past four years, I remember many things: Biochem (translated into English by Bill Gill); the "Freshperson Review"; Dan Fulkerson's cartoons; friendships; the astounding spirit of patients; Wheeler Mission; the loving support of my family; becoming an uncle; discovering the true wonder of the world of Pediatrics, and my place within it. I hope that I will be remembered for having brought some joy and laughter to our time together. I wish you all the best.

The biggest event for me over the past four years was, of course, marrying my beloved wife Gwen. She has built me up more than she can ever imagine. She's a true partner in life, my love. "Don't urge me to leave you or to turn back from you. Where you go I will go, and where you lodge I will lodge. Your people will be my people and your God my God (Ruth 1:16)." Gwen:

If the physician understands things exactly, and sees and recognizes all illnesses in the macrocosm outside man, and if he has a clear idea of man and his whole nature, then and only then is he a physician. Then he may approach the inside of man; then he may examine his urine, take his pulse, and understand where each thing belongs. This would not be possible without profound knowledgeof the outer man, who is nothing other than heaven and earth.

Congratulations to the Class of 1998!

There certainly is light at the end of the tunnel and for many people, including myself, a lifelong dtream has finally been fulfilled. We have certainly had some memorable experiences – Lance in that first anatomy test, someone always leaving the brains out, Dr. Walker's ever so enlightening lectures, Vascular Surgery at the V.A. (oh the smell and joy of the dead foot clinic), The Claw on Medicine rotation and the final decision to choose an area of expertise. However, the memories and experiences I will always cherish are the good friends I have made.

To all those friends of mine, thanks for all of your help and advice. In particular, thank you Tammy for showing me the best thing in life. And thank you Amy, for a fantastic year. I will love you always.

Good luck and keep me in mind for referrals!

The end of this year marks an exciting time of transition in our lives. Medical school was a trying period for us all, and I couldn't have asked for a better group of classmates with whom to share the experience. Even though many of us are relocating for residency, the friendships we have developed will not be forgotten. I wish everyone the best of fortune in their pursuits, and I thank those close to my heart for their support through the years, particularly my wife, Michele, and my parents, George & Nola.

It was tough. Learning the enzymes of purine synthesis was not my bag. But once we moved into the hospitals and saw that what we were learning was truly going to help people, it all became worth it.

Mom and Dad, thank you for your patience as I changed career paths through the years. I am so grateful to have been able to study Liberal Arts and then Science. When I was the long-haired History student in the picture below, all you ever wanted was for me to be happy. Most of all, I thank you for your examples as human beings, and for your true love. I could not possibly ask for better parents.

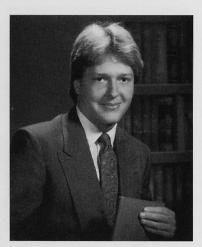

Eric, my brother, thanks for putting up with me as I sat studying at the kitchen table these four years only halfway listening to you. I was nervous. I hope we'll enjoy many decades of ping-pong games and musical talks together.

Bonnie, my sister, you've gone from the pig-tailed girl in the picture below to a bright young nurse in Chicago with a spectacular husband named Dan and three beautiful girls. I hope we can have many more talks like the one on the parkbench looking over Lake Michigan.

Grandma, I love you.

The Following Are To Blame:

Mindy and Zack: The fire under my butt, my reason for being. Without you, there'd likely be prison numbers behind my name, instead of an M and a D. I love you both.

Mom and Dad: When I married Mindy, you figured I'd never finish college. Whenever I lacked another reason, your doubts kept me going. And, much like the urge to buy pornography fades the day a boy turns 18, the desire to thumb my nose at you has ceased to serve a purpose, and thus has faded. Mom, come in off the ledge. You know I'm kidding.

Jason and Craig: The brothers who still manage to make me look like the dumb one. If I'd known a guy could make a living designing toys, I probably wouldn't be in this book. WHY DIDN'T YOU TELL ME?

Class of '98: I hope that you all go where you want, do what you want, and save more folks than you kill. Adios.

Heather: Thank you for being a wonderful wife, incredible mother, and most importantly my best friend. I cherish your love and support. May our journey through life be long, adventuresome, fun and together for always.

Whitney: My little peanut-butter-pumpkin-munchkin, obstacle of my admiration. What a treat it is to graduate medical school as you are finishing kindergarten. May you always be inquisitive and as understanding and forgiving as you are now.

Family & Friends: A special thanks to my immediate and extended families. I will always be grateful for all the love and support I have received. I consider myself extremely lucky to be surrounded by so many fine people.

Jameson Danel Way, M.D.

Bloomington, Indiana B.S., Indiana University Neurology - Indiana University

During the four years of medical school, I went through more changes than I ever will again. I married my girlfriend who stayed by my side through microbiology and learned her bugs and drugs in the process. I made good friends along the way. I bought a house, had two kittens, and traveled during those few breaks. I plan to return to my hometown of Bloomington, Ind., to practice neurology. Being away from Bloomington for the last four years has made my wife and I realize how much we miss "home."

"Do you not know that those who run in a race all run, but only one receives the prize? Run in such a way that you may win". - 1 Corinthians 9:24

To my Mom and Dad: Thank you for showing me how to become a man of honesty, integrity, and charity. Your dedication to making me a godly man has made me a more understanding and compassionate individual. I also thank you for the many years of involvement in my academic life. If you had not laid a solid scholastic foundation for me and encouraged me in my studies I never would have succeeded.

To Todd: You are a wonderful, supportive brother. Thank you for providing a recreational escape for my mind. Our discussions about sports, politics, and religion always provide a refreshing hiatus for my fatigued gray matter. I also thank you for being continuously supportive but also demanding that I be honest with myself and take time to be introspective.

To the Brown House Boys: Merde!, that sums it up best. Thanks for four great years of college companionship and four years of fantastic encouragement during medical school. I miss you guys and I look forward to our future reunions.

To Marsha: My wife to be. Thank you for your endless support and your unconditional love. Thank you for loving me in the dark hours when I felt that no one could love me. Thank you for always encouraging me even when I made foolish blunders. Marsha, without your love and unwavering support medical school would have been overwhelming and unbearable. Marsha, I love you!

Chad Alan Wiesenauer, M.D.

New Albany, Indiana B.S., Indiana University Surgery - Tulane University, New Orleans, LA

Sure, I must be thankful to those who helped me get to this point with reasonably intact sanity. I have already personally thanked each one of them: family, friends, soccer teammates, professors and doctors. And I didn't forget Johnny Pass, Darnell, the Cronies, Rumeal, Trocar-to-the-Kidneys, and Proximal and Distal Patel. But I'd like to take this opportunity to thank those that so often go unnoticed. I thank the third shift DJ's from 92.3 WTTS, 96.7 WBWB, 99.5 WZPL, and 103.3 WRZX for staying up most of the night with me. I thank the Chevrolet Motors Division of General Motors Corporation and Kawasaki Heavy Industries for enjoyable transportation. I thank Indy Indoor Sports, Off the Wall Sports, and German Park soccer facilities. I thank the United States government for helping out with some loans. And I thank Indiana University and its medical school, for in the last eight years, I think I had the time of my life.

SUCCESS

To laugh often and much,
To win the respect of intelligent people
and the affection of children,
To find the best in others,
To appreciate beauty,
To leave the world a bit better,
whether by a healthy child,
a garden patch,
or a redeemed social condition,
To know even one life has breathed easier
because you have lived,
This is to have succeeded

Ralph Waldo Emerson

Thomas C. Wisler, Jr., M.D.

To my wonderful Mom and Dad: Thanks for the support, advice, and love.

To my five beautiful Sisters: Thanks for being there for me!

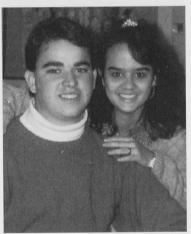

To my great In-laws: Thanks for the encouragement and the well deserved R&R in Hawaii.

To my incredible Wife: Through tremendous love and understanding made these four years fly by without too much turbulence. I love you with all my heart!

Bret Alan Wittmer, M.D., D.V.M.

Elberfeld, Indiana
B.S., D.V.M., Purdue University
Family Medicine - Trover Clinic Foundation, Madisonville, KY

My career in medicine began in an unusual way and will most likely continue to take the same pathway. I have a passion to care for people of all ages and feel that this is my calling on earth. I would like to dedicate my degree to God, my wife, Carolyn and child, Abigail. Without their love, support and understanding this would not have been possible. They have always been there for me when I needed encouragement and love. As the years unfold, it is my hope that my education at Indiana University School of Medicine will touch many lives and help to heal the sick and downhearted in years to come. Carolyn and Abigail I love you!! The Lord is my light and my salvation-whom shall I fear?

Matthew D. Wolf, M.D.

Bluffton, Indiana B.S., Butler University Family Medicine - St. Francis Hospital

To my Family and Friends: Isn't this unbelievable? I'm finished with school now. It's remarkable that there will be no more student loans and finally some sort of income. Thank you for all your support. I appreciate all your encouragement and companionship throughout the years.

To Mom and Dad: I appreciate your encouragement throughout childhood.. and even now. I also appreciate how you've have always taught me to be honest and treat others with respect. I will use these principles consistently in practice. I love you both.

And to my wonderful wife, Kristin: You have been there for me throughout this whole process of undergraduate and medical school. You have given me encouragement the entire time. You have also experienced the happy and sad times in my life. You mean so much to me, and I am thankful for each day that we have together. Here's to the rest of our lives. I love you so much.

David W. Wu, M.D.

Indianapolis, Indiana B.S., Indiana University Internal Medicine - Vanderbilt University, Nashville, TN

To Mom and Dad: Thanks for all of your support, guidance, and unconditional love. You have served as wonderful role models for me and Chris as professionals, citizens, and family.

To Chris: You represent everything a brother should be. A lifelong friend and a fierce rival on the tennis court. Go NC!

To Eireen: I am eternally grateful for our fortuitous rendez-vous in Washington D.C. You've been there for me through good times and those not so good. I hope we'll be able to share many more special moments together for the rest of our lives.

To God, and my family and friends: You are all very dear and special to me. Thanks for everything.

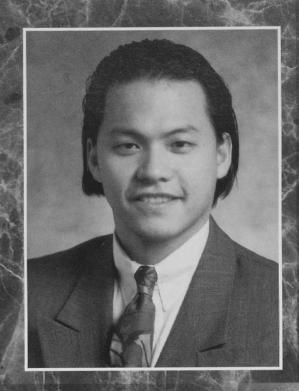

Marion, Indiana B.S.E.E., GMI Engineering & Management Institute Anesthesia - Northwestern University, Chicago

I have had many trials and tribulations during the last four years. My friends and family have been there to see me through it all. I owe it to them and to myself to be the competent, caring, and compassionate physician I know I can be. I once read in a fortune cookie, "If you are standing upright, don't worry if your shadow is crooked." We, the Class of 1998, have touched many lives and should always remain upright.

Talal Mohammad Zeni, M.D.

Indianapolis, Indiana B.S., Purdue University Preliminary Surgery - Baylor University Medical Center, Dallas, TX

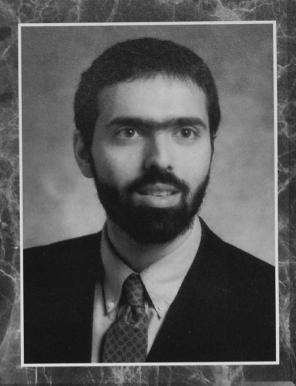

To my mom who raised her family through a difficult dozen years practically alone. Had it not been for the grace of God and her complete dedication and love we could not have made it together. A child can never return the favor of a parent, but I will God willing always try to please you.

To my father who despite what seems to the rest of us to be an insurmountable illness has remained patient and has replaced despair with constant unfaltering hope. May God cure you and give you long life.

To my brother Ferras whom I only hope the best for.

To my sister Susan. Continue your studies and work hard to become the best

To my brothers Amer and Tarek whom I very much love, continue striving for knowledge and reading and may you both achieve your aspirations. And finally I will always be there to watch your rugby games.
